To whom it may concern:

We previously engaged the services of RMS Consulting to assist us in the auditing of our internal systems and procedures, with regards to safety and security, to ensure ongoing compliance with national standards, and best practise as a quality driven organisation.

To this effect RMS conducted a full security survey, together with a full health and safety audit of our facilities, which included:

- an assessment of our physical and electronic security measures, coupled with an assessment of our policies, plans and procedures relating to safety and security.
- Conducting a fire risk assessment
- Conducting 17 individual risk assessments across all aspects of our business.
- A review of our safety policy and updating of our safety statement
- A review of our emergency evacuation procedures
- A review of our management training policy and procedures / records

On completion of the audit, RMS provided us with a full written report and supporting evidence, which was simplistic, clear and fitting to our operational requirements. Recommendations were prioritised by importance and were not costly to implement. They also helped develop further systems to further embed a safety culture across our organisation.

All this was done within a short timeframe, with no disruption to our core business operation. Their approach was professional, systematic and most importantly, affordable. The consultants who dealt with us, were Garda vetted and the company held full tax clearance and more than adequate insurance.

We still continue to work closely with RMS in training our staff in Fire Awareness and additional Fire Warden training, which is customised to suit our specific needs. They also do regular reviews of our evacuation procedures and conduct refresher training with our staff to this effect.

I would have no hesitation in recommending RMS Consulting to any school, playschool, crèche or Montessori, as a supplier of quality services relating to safety, security and training.
