

Risk Analysis & the Security Survey

This course has been designed to provide comprehensive training at all levels in security surveying and risk analysis of new and existing assignments.

You will gain in-depth knowledge of how to carry out surveys and will then demonstrate their newly acquired skills by performing a survey on a building as well as producing reports to support their findings and outline their recommendations. You will then produce a set of assignment instructions detailing routines and procedures using the details recorded on their reports.

Who Will Benefit?

Area/Regional Managers, Sales/Marketing Managers and Security Consultants who will play an active role in the negotiating and agreeing of security contracts.

As well as those responsible for protecting the assets of an organisation.
